Creating Bridges to Knowledge

Faculty Services

Document Delivery

To request articles, books, working papers; send an email to gbsdocdel@emory.edu. Complete citations expedite delivery. If the item is not owned by Emory, an Interlibrary Loan will be processed on your behalf.

Materials are delivered to your mailbox in the Goizueta Faculty Services Center. If you prefer an electronic format, please specify that preference.

Databases

The Goizueta Business Library provides access, from your office, home or on-the-road to over 90 business-related databases <http://business.library.emory.edu/research-learning/databases/index.php>. An information page for each one includes links for on and/or off campus access. Required passwords, as needed, are provided via a link.

Reserves

Course Reserves <http://business.library.emory.edu/research-learning/faculty-services/reserves.html> the library's Electronic Reserves module (available within Canvas) provides students with access to copyright compliant, online materials. Readings are listed in syllabus order and may include a link to <https://study.net> through which students can set-up accounts and purchase assigned Harvard materials, such as case studies. The OPUS system automatically enrolls students and instructors into their respective courses. Email a draft or completed syllabus to gbsreserves@emory.edu and/or Monique Martinez to begin the process.

EJournals

Use <http://ejournals.emory.edu/> to locate over 60,000 online, full text journals to which Emory's libraries have paid subscriptions. When available, this connects directly to the online full text journal. ABI/Inform, IEEE, J-Stor, Science-Direct and Business Source Complete are the primary business databases for these online full-text articles.

For your convenience, you may return library books and interlibrary loan items to the Library postal box on the floor of the GBS Faculty Services Center.
